To the entrance of the freeway

According to the evening news
On the Brandenburgian low lands
Even cowgirls get the blues

Underneath the pale moon light
Come on Sissy, hop inside
We won't have to find our way back home tonight

Oh tell me friend
Something I don't know
Where we can
Let our feelings show

Way down south I know a place where
Heaven burns one down with hell
Where the echoes never faded

Everybody hop inside
We won't have to find our way back home tonight
